Russia Hopes For Early Peace With Whole World

SOVIET READY TO GO TO WAR IF SHE IS "PRESSED" TOO FAR LENINE AVERS

Red Leader Declares Russia is Prepared for Any World Emergency

PREDICT CONCESSIONS FROM AMERICA FIRST

New Year Will See Russia a World Power, Lenin Declares

(Copyright 1921 by I. N. S.)

MOSCOW, via Berlin, Dec. 27.—Announcement that Russia is ready to make early concessions for peace and the prediction that the Soviet soon will be formally recognized, came today from Nicolai Lenin.

The Soviet leader spoke of Russia's desire for outside assistance but declared that if pushed too far, Russia would be ready to go to war.

"The Washington conference is sure to be followed by a world conference in Europe, with both Russia and Germany represented," said Lenin.

"Recognition of the Soviet is near. It might be pointed out that America took the leadership in the relief of the Russian famine sufferers and the first concession also will be American."

"The theory that a Soviet republic and a capitalistic government cannot exist at the same time has been proven wrong. The new year will see Soviet Russia a world power. Close diplomatic relations, already exist with nearly all countries. Russia is ready to make further concessions for peace, but we cannot go beyond a certain point."

"If our enemies force war upon Russia they will find Russia ready for it." Lenin hinted at further important American concessions now under consideration.

He added: "Russia needs capital from the western world and the western world needs raw materials from Russia."

DEMOCRATS HOPE TO REGAIN CONTROL

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Democratic leaders of the house began to assert confidentially today that they will regain a sufficient number of congressional districts in the next election to assure them a majority in the house.

They are counting on heavy gains in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Oklahoma, with scattering help from Illinois, Maryland, Missouri, Michigan and other mid-west and far-west states.

DIES FOLLOWING DRINK OF LIQUOR

(International News Service)
ANNISTON, Ala., Dec. 27.—Charges of second degree manslaughter and violation of the prohibition laws have been filed against William Ware, a white man, following the death Monday of Clarence Richardson, said to have been caused by drinking whiskey supplied by Ware.

William McFarland, a friend of Richardson, told the police that Richardson procured the whiskey from Ware, who told them he had brought it to Anniston from Talladega Sunday.

Nearly a Million Spent by Southern Bell for Improvements in This State

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 27.—During the first nine months of 1921 the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company spent $927,732.19 on improvements and betterments in Alabama, according to a financial statement submitted to the public service commission and made public today. The report was filed in compliance with the order of the commission at the time the company was permitted to make an increase in certain rates in the state, the decision of the commission being for the purpose of permitting the company to obtain such a return on its investment in this state as would interest new capital and would provide for improvement.

In seeking the new rates the company said it would be necessary to spend in this state during the year a total of $1,415,825 if the demands of subscribers and those who desired telephone service were to be met. The company insisted that new capital could not be obtained unless it could obtain a reasonable return on its investment and that without new capital it would be unable to finance the improvements and betterments.

EUGENE V. DEBS PLANS WORLD TOUR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Eugene V. Debs plans a tour of the world as an apostle of peace.

The Socialist leader, sentenced to 10 years imprisonment for opposing and denouncing the last war, announced today he will devote his future activities to fighting war in every country of the world.

"It is my plan to tour the world. I have invitations from several countries. I hope to visit every country, fighting war and getting men, women and children to vow that never again will they support murder in the form of war," he said.

Debs was buoyant today after a refreshing night's sleep. He expects to leave here today for his home in Terre Haute.

BURGLARS REVERSE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT AND ROB HOME OF DR. J. D. WALLACE

Unsuccessful Attempts Made to Rob Two Other Homes

HINES AWAKENED BY LIGHT, CHASES MAN

Order During the Holiday Season is Universally Good Here

Officers are searching for bold burglars who reversed the Christmas spirit Saturday night and robbed the home of Rev. J. D. Wallace, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Decatur, and made unsuccessful attempts to rob the homes of Leroy McEntire and Emmett Hines.

In the latter home, the burglar flashed the rays of a flash light across the bed upon which Mr. Hines was sleeping and awakened the latter. Mr. Hines jumped up and the intruder fled, climbing over a wire fence in his haste to escape. Mr. Hines was unable to identify the burglar.

The robbery of the Presbyterian manse apparently was made while the family was attending church services and the burglars made a valuable haul.

Several papers of more or less value were taken, together with a ladies watch, shopping bag, railroad ticket to Chattanooga, the wedding ring of Dr. and Mrs. Wallace, a fountain pen and about $5 in cash. Much of the stolen property belonged to Dr. Wallace's sister, who was the holiday guest of the family.

The three robberies constituted almost the only incident marring a near perfect record of lawful observance of the holidays here.

The Christmas season was unusually quiet in official circles and the good order maintained was the subject of much favorable comment. It is believed the robberies were the work of someone hunting money, as he gave evidence of searching for coin only in all of the places he visited.

REV. GOODWIN IS PRESENTED PURSE

"Parson" Goodwin, widely beloved pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, has been "called before the mayor." It was his first experience.

Sunday morning a beautiful Christmas service was held at the church at 7 o'clock, the largest congregation in the history of the church attending. Just before the conclusion of the service, a note was sent the minister, stating that Mayor E. C. Payne, who is a member of the church, desired to make an announcement.

In a brief address, thanking Dr. Goodwin for his services during the year, Mayor Payne presented the pastor with a purse of $350 on behalf of the congregation.

Rev. Goodwin expressed deep appreciation for the gift.

Many Remembered at Christmas Tree

The Christmas tree committee of the Kiwanis Club announced that they have distributed about three hundred and fifty packages, and each member is happy in the fact that the time was well spent and a wealth of satisfaction is theirs also. They are happy in the fact that they brought happiness to others.

CIRCUIT COURT TO MEET JANUARY 9, JUDGE ANNOUNCES TO PUBLIC AND BAR

Petition for Postponement of Term Overruled by the Circuit Judges

TWO WEEKS COURT IS EXPECTED TO BE HELD

Farmers Would be Inconvenienced by Postponement, Judge Kyle Says

The petition of the local bar for a postponement of the January term of circuit court has been overruled by Judge O. Kyle, after a conference with Judge Brickell, and court will convene on January 9, according to an announcement today by Judge Kyle.

Two weeks term of the court will be held and Judge Kyle declared civil cases will be tried in the order in which they are set. He instructed all interested persons to be present, no cases being postponed except for "legal cause."

Judge Kyle's statement follows:

Decatur, Ala., Dec. 27th, 1921
Mr. J. L. Draper,
Circuit Court Clerk,
Decatur, Ala.

Dear Sir:—

Recently the local Bar petitioned me not to hold the next term of the Circuit Court which has heretofore been set to convene on January 9th, 1922. After conferring about it with Judge Brickell, we are both of the opinion that the court should be held. There are more than 80 civil cases on the docket for trial, and if the January term of the court be postponed, the next term will be the last week in April and first week in May, at the busiest season of the year for all parties and witnesses engaged in farming; this would result in a large part of the civil docket not being called for trial before the September term of the court. Other good reasons could be given justifying our action in overruling the said petition.

You are hereby directed to notify the members of the local Bar that a two week term of the Circuit Court for the transaction of civil business only will be held in this county commencing on January 9th, 1922, and that the cases will be tried in the order they appear upon the docket, unless legal cause is shown justifying continuances; in other words, parties and their attorneys must attend court expecting their cases to be tried unless legal cause can be shown why it should not be done.

Very truly yours,
O. KYLE, Judge.

W. G. BARNES LAID TO REST TUESDAY

W. G. Barnes, aged 68 years, for 15 years a merchant of Austinville, died at 11 a. m. Monday at his home there. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Johnson's Chapel by Rev. Jones, and interment made in the chapel graveyard.

Mr. Barnes is survived by his wife, one son, W. F. Barnes, and a daughter, Miss Lula Barnes, all of Austinville. The deceased was a member of the Methodist church for 40 years and was widely known throughout this county.

Tax Officials Have Active Day

The tax officials at the court house are crowded today with tax payers and those seeking to assess and pay taxes before January 1st. Many out-of-town people are noticed in the crowds that are taxing the office force at the two places to take care of the business.

FRANCE WILL INSIST ON BIG NAVAL QUOTA

(International News Service)
PARIS, Dec. 27.—The French delegation at the Washington conference has been instructed to maintain the French demands for 90,000 tons of cruiser submarines, it was learned this evening.

It is understood the French admiralty sent the instructions following a cabinet council to consider the naval issue at Washington.

WORTHINGTON VERY HOPEFUL OF FORD GETTING SHOALS

SHEFFIELD, Ala., Dec. 27.—There has not been more elation aroused as to the success of the efforts of Henry Ford to acquire the Muscle Shoals, any time in the last year, than was caused by the personal dispatch, of Colonel J. W. Worthington received here on Christmas eve. Colonel Worthington began his message by saying that he would waive his usual procedure, and give out a Christmas greeting, and one in which he was glad to say that at no time previous have prospects seemed so bright for the termination of the Weeks-Ford conference in favor of the latter's proposals to take over the whole Muscle Shoals project.

It was pointed out here that the long silence of Colonel Worthington gave force to what he now had to say. It was argued that unless the veteran engineer and promoter of Muscle Shoals, were perfectly sure of his ground, he would have kept silent at this time. It was cited that not since the time that such papers as the Chicago Tribune, attacked Colonel Worthington's plans and fished his correspondence from a Detroit hotel, that dealt with his and Ford's plans has he said anything to the public concerning the Ford offer to buy Muscle Shoals. It has been the belief here, that Col. Worthington made up his mind at that time to maintain a strict silence until he had "put all his enemies under his feet" to borrow a scriptural expression.

SECOND PARLEY IS URGED TO SETTLE SUBMARINE ROW

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The calling of another conference for the limitation of armament to which nations, in addition to the ones now attending the Washington meeting would be invited, now is under consideration by this government it was disclosed this afternoon.

Such a conference certainly will be called if the present conference fails to reach an agreement on the submarine question and other auxiliary fighting crafts.

France's demand for 90,000 tons will not be assented to by powers now attending the Washington conference. This was the first reaction in conference circles this afternoon following advices from Paris that the French government has rejected the American compromise program and has instructed its delegates here to press for the 90,000 ton fleet.

It appears entirely probable today that a formal proposition will be laid before the conference to leave submarines in status quo and settle their ultimate fate at the next conference. The suggestion for passing over the submarine question here and dealing with them later are emanating entirely from foreign quarters.

The American delegation is very reluctant to accept such a decision. Postponement of a decision on the problem would be acceptable to Italy, it was stated by the spokesmen of the Italian delegation today.

WESTERNER WILL INTERVIEW WEEKS IN JANUARY AFTER INSPECTING PLANT

San Francisco Capitalist Wires War Secretary of His Arrival Date

FORD'S NEGOTIATIONS HALTED TEMPORARILY

Engineers Requested to Get More Authority From the Manufacturer

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Accompanied by several technical advisers, C. C. Tinkler, of the San Francisco Construction company, left here Monday for Muscle Shoals.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—C. C. Tinkler, president of the San Francisco Construction company, today loomed as a rival of Henry Ford for the leasing of the waterpower development project at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

Secretary of War Weeks received a telegram from Tinkler today, stating the latter would arrive in Washington about January 5 for a conference on his offer to lease the project.

The Ford negotiations, it was officially learned, have been temporarily suspended, but officials would not connect this action with Tinkler's offer. Tinkler, it was stated, will visit Muscle Shoals with a party of engineers and inspect the project prior to his conference with Secretary Weeks.

The war department last week asked Tinkler to make a more definite offer after an original proposal had been received from him. Secretary Weeks, at the time, stated he would seriously consider a bona fide offer from Tinkler.

The Ford negotiations, it was learned, were suspended when Ford's engineers, W. B. Mayo and J. W. Worthington failed to arrive at agreement on details of the project with army engineers. The conferences were terminated by Secretary Weeks. The Secretary told Ford's representatives that they should obtain authority from Ford to complete all details before negotiations would be resumed. If, in the event that Ford would not grant his engineers this authority, it was stated the conferences would not be resumed until Ford attended them personally.

It was made evident that the government's representatives consider the negotiations a waste of time inasmuch as the Ford engineers were not empowered to make any decision, but merely to offer suggestions.

They frequently clashed with army engineers on estimates of work to be done at the plant. These variations totalled $15,000,000.

Tinkler informed Secretary Weeks in the telegram that he would be accompanied to Washington by F. C. Hitchcock, one of his assistants. Tinkler and Hitchcock were scheduled to see Secretary Weeks yesterday and their failure to do so, according to Tinkler's telegram, was due to a misunderstanding.

J. B. Bryant Dies After Long Illness

Mr. Bryant was stricken with paralysis about one year ago while serving as a juror. He recovered somewhat from the stroke but was never able to sufficiently recover to attend to business.

He leaves a wife and eight children. Interment at Stockton graveyard, attended by a large following of friends and relatives of the family.

CHARITY SHOULD BEGIN AT HOME;
BUT IT SHOULD NOT REMAIN THERE

Friday's papers carried the news that President Harding had signed the bill making twenty million dollars of American money immediately available to the Russians. This action raises once again the old question of the advisability of contributions to foreign peoples out of the public treasury. The arguments prevailing in the minds of the men who originated the measure and voted it to victory were probably like the following: The Russian nation has no near neighbors who are able to serve, in the capacity of the good Samaritan, hence Uncle Sam must be pressed into service. As for the individual Russians, they are starving, not in a land of plenty such as America is, but in a land of chaos, famine and bad government. The Russian poor cannot help themselves; they are down and out just as was the "certain man who went down from Jericho to Jerusalem and fell among thieves." This consideration must have lain heavily on the minds and consciences of the Washington solons. The bequest of $20,000,000.00 meant taking 20 cents from every man, woman and child in this country, but under the circumstances the average citizen will say—"let the Russians have it."

It would be a cold blooded logic, indeed, that would cavil at such a gift to the needy wherever placed, or who they may happen to be. It is an evidence that human nature may be improving some at least that the donation was made with so little protest. There is none too much charity under the sun, there is hardly enough to go around, and despite the fact America and every country has been hard pressed since the world way, that act of charity should not be discouraged. Because, the whole $20,000,000 was prorated out, makes those who are little able to give partakers in a greatly needed aid to a starving people with small cost to them, while those who have plenty have had so little taken from them, that they can well afford to help the needed here at home as they ever were. All Americans who subscribe cheerfully to the Christian creed as touching charity, will feel grateful that during this Christmas season, we gave made a substantial donation in the name of universal brotherhood. Those who might have wished, perhaps without much consideration, that the $20,000,000 had been kept at home and added to the general fund of the nation, place themselves in the unenviable attitude of a certain one of the disciples, who later came to a very bad end, who wished the gift made by Mary, of the precious ointment, cashed into the general fund. There will be little grumbling among Americans who think the matter over, because our stewards at Washington saw fit to pay over 20 million dollars for charity from the common treasury. Laying aside the altruistic considerations of this Christmas gift, the practical effect on the Russians will not be a bad one. China has remained steadily our friend, ever since we remitted the Boxer indemnity, and the Russian people will be slow to forget our consideration at this time. This gift also may help the Russians to come to their senses, to a realization that out of "saving cometh having," and out of safe and sane political ideals comes national prosperity. If ever a flood of irresponsible bolshevism comes from any quarter of the globe it will flow out from Russia. This donation for prosperous America will tend to destroy bolshevism at its very source. We are covering "a multitude of sins" before they happen, and seek to spread themselves all over the entire world.

Every hour is bringing nearer the time when much of the heavy load of taxation will be taken from the tax-payers of a nation. When the preparation for possible conflicts ceases by consent of the nations of earth, something like 93% of this burden will go to other and better channels; avenues that will be of a constructive form and not of destruction.

That hideous monster pessimism has been well night buried under the avalanche of the good spirit of optimism that has pervaded in all walks of life during the closing days of the year.

Pat said: If anybody offers you something for less than its worth, or seeks to palm off on you something for more than its worth, take no chances, but call a policeman.

SERGEANT YORK

In a room ten foot square, and even that not his own, is living today Alvin C. York, his young wife, and his baby son.

Not a foot of the land for whose honor and security York fought himself into an undying fame belongs to this modest hero.

When the war was over they pinned decoration on his breast—the Congressional Medal of Honor, the Distinguished Service Cross, the Croix de Guerre with Palms. Foch, in bestowing the French honor, told him: "What you did was the greatest thing ever accomplished by any soldier of any of the armies of Europe."

Then he went back to the Tennessee mountains whence he came. York refused to capitalize his fame. He proposed to devote his life to the education of his people, the pure blood American stock of the Southern mountains. For them he gave a few lectures and made his unselfish appeal, with little effect. No finer character has a place in our history. None finer exists in our literature. His feat in battle places him in the front rank of the heroes of war of all time, and his conduct as a man and a citizen in war and peace, his dignity, his devotion to the highest ideals of human service and sacrifice raise him to a higher plane than the fighting hero often occupies.

To the people of the future, in the tradition which enriches the national memory and consciousness, the name of York will mean more than that of any general in this war.

Yet this great hero lives today in his mother's humble cabin among the hills, his own future unprovided for, his noble purpose balked. The roof over his head is not his. The Alvin York foundation for a school to teach his people of the mountains is not realized. The cheering crowds have forgot. The local gift is in abeyance. Last August a proposal to retire him with the rank and pay of captain "developed opposition" in the Senate Military Affairs Committee.

What a picture of the ingratitude of republics! What a commentary on the shallowness of our emotions and the depth of our selfish preoccupations!

York is a name of glory in our history which will shine while the memory of heroism remains to our race. But today it is a blot on our good name. While sentimentalists parade before the White House with banners demanding the release of Eugene Debs, conscientious objector, York, the conscientious objector, who did his duty on the field of battle and there covered the American name with glory, lives in the cabin among the Tennessee hills ignored if not forgotten!

We hope Mr. W. N. Sharp's proposal to make Alvin C. York a part of our merriest Christmas will meet the response of Tribune readers it deserves. This is no call to charity. It is a call to justice and gratitude and national self-respect.—The Chicago Tribune.

The strong box of the state at Montgomery is holding more money at present than for a long time past, as announced by the state officials. It is also said that they will not be compelled to borrow any money and are able to meet any legitimate demands that may be made.

School teachers of the state are being paid promptly, old soldiers warrants also, and there seems to be plenty of the coin of the realm in the state coffers.

Another year is almost spent. The county with her thousands of artisans now stand at attention and pause on what has been accomplished and contemplate the duties that lie out before.

May the spirit that has been exhibited in the closing days of the year be carried forward and amplified during the year that will soon be ushered in, and if done, a better and more contented people will be the result.

Great things have been accomplished, and greater ones are yet to be mastered.

To those fellows who pass among their fellow-men seeking to get a news item here and there for the good of the community where each reside, are made glad when those whom they approach give them the benefit of the information which they seek. It is quite noticeable there is a splendid feeling in practically all cases thus approached, and it produces a spirit of comradeship that is greatly appreciated by the fellow who is trying to get a "scoop."

In every year there develops a character of the hero type. Frequently these come from the most obscure surroundings. Those who place their own life in jeopardy in seeking to save the lives of others are heroes, it matters not in what walk of life they move.

To those great minds of the nation that have been earnestly at work seeking to formulate agreements that would end much of the strife that is extant in the world, a great debt of gratitude is due. Their work is of a constructive nature and will bear fruit.

To those others that dealt earnestly with the smaller problems of life, each in his own sphere has also contributed his share to the spirit of the times.

Picked up Cold Game

B. Blankenship, helper in the machine shop, is authority for the following: On last Wednesday he was out hunting on the Somerville road. The weather was cold and in the gray dawn, he espied a rabbit near him. As he was about to shoot him, Mr. Blankenship also saw a quail just at his feet. Both the rabbit and quail seemed stunned by the cold, so much so that instead of shooting them, the hunter reached down and picked them up.

Difference of Opinion

Ernest W. Eip, who is a machinist of the Southern railway shops at Sheffield, but who lives in Tusculum, is visiting his father, J. P. Eip, of the blacksmith shop. Earnest says that every day he sees men from Birmingham and other cities prospecting in his home town and in Sheffield. "We are all in hopes Mr. Ford will be awarded the Shoals, but we are not over enthusiastic at the prospect. We all believe some one will operate the plants, but just who it will be we do not know. There is an undercurrent of doubt with us. We believe, but we have a lot of unbelief mixed up with it, as to the success of Mr. Ford." Foreman Isaac Rogers, who stated he was on a recent visit to Sheffield, said that from what he could gather, Ford was sure to win. "I talked with the mayor of Sheffield and he seems to think that the plans are all made for Mr. Ford to own the Muscle Shoals."

A Scotch Slave Driver

"Speaking about modern slavery," said J. K. Walsh, "we don't know anything about the real thing. I know of a Scotch housewife who worked five servant girls. She was what we call a 'bustler.' This is Monday morning, tomorrow is Tuesday, next day is Wednesday, then comes Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and nothing done—get up quick!'"

A Delightful Row

"My wife had suffered from stomach and liver trouble for many years and had taken medicine enough to sink a ship; so when I brought home a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, on the advice of my employer, she refused to take it. Her liver trouble hadn't helped her disposition any. We had a big row, but she took it the next week. Her ailments have all disappeared. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—adv.

Popular Business Woman of Beaumont, Tex., Relates Interesting Experience

Mrs. Rosa Howson, a popular employee of the "Fashion" in Beaumont, Texas, recently made the following statement regarding Tanlac:

"Everybody who knows me has noticed the wonderful change Tanlac has made in my condition. Before taking the medicine I was in an awful run-down condition, due to stomach trouble of long standing. Everything I ate fermented, causing gas and such a pressure on my heart that I thought I would smother. My appetite was poor and I ate so little that I went down in weight from 165 to 110 pounds.

"By the time I finished my first bottle of Tanlac I felt a wonderful change coming over me. Soon my appetite was fine and I was able to eat and digest anything I wanted. I soon regained my lost weight and strength. I now weigh 134 pounds and am enjoying the best of health."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—adv.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at a special session held in the year 1921, proposed a certain amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, and ordered an election to be held thereon on the first Monday after the expiration of three months from and after the final adjournment of said session, which will be Monday, the 30th day of January, 1922;
AND WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law, to be given by proclamation of the Governor;
NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thos. E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct, and proclaim, that a special election will be held on Monday, January 30, 1922, for the vote of the qualified electors of Alabama, in the manner, form, and places required by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"Article XX. Section 1. The State is authorized to engage in the construction, improvement, repair, and maintenance of public roads, highways, and bridges in the State of Alabama. To this end, and for this purpose, the State is authorized to appropriate funds; and also to issue and sell interest-bearing negotiable State bonds, in an amount not to exceed the sum of twenty-five millions of dollars ($25,000,000.00), to be issued in such denominations, numbers, and series, and maturing at such time, as may be provided for by law; but such bonds shall bear a rate of interest not greater than six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall be sold at a price not less than the par value thereof. Provided, that no bonds shall be issued or sold, under this provision, to such an amount that the interest thereon will exceed the net amount of vehicle license tax collected for the year preceding the issuance of same, and which is set apart for the payment of interest on said bonds. The State Highway Commission or Highway Department shall locate, construct, and maintain highways and state trunk roads so as to connect each county seat with the county seat of the adjoining county by the most direct or most feasible route by a permanent road, having due regard to the public welfare, and to connect the county seats of the several border counties at or near the State line with a public road in the border states. Provided, that in counties which are divided into two or more judicial divisions in each of which regular terms of circuit court are held, the places where said terms of court are held shall likewise be connected with each other. It shall be the duty of said highway commission or highway department to equitably apportion among the several counties the expenditure of both money and labor and the time or times of making such investments. Not less than one-quarter of a million dollars of the proceeds of these bonds shall be set aside and expended by the State Highway Commission in each county in the State. To create a sinking fund for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest on these bonds and for the construction, maintenance, and improvement of such public highways, roads, and bridges, the Legislature shall levy a special annual license or privilege tax on all automobiles, and on all motor driven vehicles which may be used on the public roads and highways of this state. Such bonds when issued shall be a direct obligation of the State, and for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest thereon the full faith and credit of the State is hereby irrevocably pledged, and such bonds shall be exempt forever from all taxes of every kind."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, at the Capitol, in the City of Montgomery, on this 16th day of November, in the year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-one.

Hartselle News

Mrs. Sallie Simpson is dead at Earle, Ark. This sad intelligence was flashed over the wires Monday evening and brought genuine sorrow to her many friends and acquaintances in this city where she had lived for over a half century.

Only Monday morning the reassuring news was conveyed to anxious friends at this place that she was thought to be better. Pneumonia set in Monday and her frail constitution could not withstand the ravages of this fast destroying disease.

Mrs. Simpson was spending the winter with her daughter, Miss Janet, at Earle, Ark., and about one month ago made a visit back home and was seemingly in good health.

She was one of the oldest residents of Hartselle, was the widow of T. Jeff Simpson, deceased. Three daughters and one son survive her.

Miss Elizabeth Simpson, postmistress at this place, was at her bedside when the end came.

The body is expected to arrive here today and internment will take place at McKendree Chapel Wednesday.

The burial of James Hugh Pope, who was accidentally killed at Bessemer, took place here Monday morning at 10 o'clock, at Bethel, one mile north of town.

Mr. Pope was the son of W. D. Pope who lives near here. Mr. Pope was shooting at a target at his home, and it seems that a boy about nine years old was in the crowd, and while Mr. Pope went to look at the spot they were shooting at, the young man in manipulating a pistol that he didn't think was loaded, went off, the bullet striking Mr. Pope near the base of the skull, killing him instantly. He was buried with Masonic honors, Hartselle lodge officiating. He leaves a wife and two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Gipson entertained the following young people at a six o'clock dinner at their home on Short street Sunday evening: Misses Maymie Tolleson, Clyde Tolleson, Cleo Wiley, Louise Guyer and Ethel Daves, Messrs. Edwin Wiggins, Emmett Bridges, Hal Orr and Carl Gipson.

John A. Rodgers, a former resident of Hartselle, now of Albany, was here Monday renewing old friendships.

Miss Lois White and Marvin Rowe were married at the home of the
